A stunning Porsche 997 GT3 Clubsport, originally delivered in Sweden, featuring the fantastic 3.6-liter Mezger engine. Particularly attractive in guardsred and with the Clubsport package, including carbon-fiber bucket seats.

The first Swedish owner took delivery of the car in April 2007 directly from the factory in Stuttgart; it was then sold to a buyer in Germany in 2017 and subsequently to the third and current owner in 2020, who registered it in Prague.

The car is accident-free; with the exception of the front hood, the body is entirely in its original paint. The visually appealing Porsche lettering on the sides and the modern Porsche PCCM navigation system were retrofitted; otherwise, the GT3 remains in its original delivery condition down to the last detail.

The first service was performed at an independent Porsche workshop in northern Sweden; all subsequent services (six in total) were then carried out at Porsche Centers, with the last one in April 2026 at the Porsche Center in Prague. The stamped, original service booklet and service receipts are available. The DME report shows no instances of engine over-revving.

This Porsche 997 GT3 is a driver's car par excellence, offering pure driving pleasure and great potential as a future classic!
